The idea

Use Machine Learning to study correlation factors between academic success and student habits.

GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

Give students an idea of the time students should be able to afford for leisure activities customized to their workload, faculty and background. This suggestion would be based on what other students have been taking as extracurricular activities, weighted by their success.

Results and impact

Bring awareness to the benefits of a balanced life.

Improve the experience of exchange students by providing them with informed time management guidance

Towards empowering:
