

Welcome everyone to the sixth week of the new space economy course. This week, we will open your horizon with some new business application in the space field. We will talk about cybersecurity, which is capital if you want to protect your data. We will also talk about how to use the unique microgravity environment in space or in this orbiting facility like the ISS that you see in my back. We will finally talk about how space research is leading innovation and will be transferred into disruptive applications on Earth. During this week's course, we will also give you some insights on how to create a business model with an impact.
