³ The Program Committee comprises three to twelve members, at least half of whom are professors or senior scientists (maîtres d'enseignement et de recherche) at EPFL. With the exception of the doctoral student representatives, the members hold doctoral degrees. The Program Director may request special derogations to the latter condition from the Associate Vice President for Post-Graduate Education on a case by case basis.

⁴ The Program Committee:

3 Letters of recommendation are treated confidentially, including with respect to the applicant, in accordance with the waiver to which the latter has agreed.
4 Acceptance on a Doctoral Program remains valid for one year, during which time the candidate must enrol with the Registrar's Office. Any later and the candidate must re-apply to the Doctoral Program.

Article 4 Study plan (Art. 3, para. 3 of the Ordinance)

1 Each Doctoral Program stipulates in its study rules and regulations the number of ECTS credits required and, where applicable, the mandatory courses. The study rules and regulations require a minimum of 12 credits and a maximum of 30 credits.
2 In order to pursue and successfully complete a doctoral study program, candidates must acquire the number of credits required by the rules and regulations of their Doctoral Program, divided as follows:
   1. at least 4 credits during the first year of doctoral study;
   2. the remaining credits prior to the oral thesis examination.
3 The choice of courses is made jointly with the Thesis Director and in accordance with the study rules and regulations. The chosen courses must entail the acquisition of new skills and knowledge.
4 A candidate may request the approval of the Program Committee for courses followed outside EPFL during his/her doctoral studies. In the absence of an assessment to validate the credits, the Committee will organise an assessment at EPFL.

Article 5 Courses

1 The program’s courses are subject to assessment. The form of assessment (oral or written examination, report and presentation, etc.) is determined by the instructor and announced at the beginning of the course.
2 The assessment is evaluated using grades, or as follows: R for pass, E for fail, M for previously notified absence, NA for non-notified absence (in accordance with the Ordonnance sur le contrôle des études à l’EPFL\(^2\)).

Section 3  Admission for thesis preparation; thesis direction

Article 6  Choice of Thesis Director (Art. 10 of the Ordinance)

1 All EPFL theses are supervised by a Thesis Director, based at EPFL. At the time the Thesis Director is chosen, the likelihood must exist that he/she will continue to be based at EPFL for the duration of the thesis, i.e. for at least four years. The Program Director and the Registrar’s Office ensure that this condition is respected.

2 The candidate is accorded one year from enrolment to obtain the agreement of an EPFL professor or senior scientist (MER, maître d'enseignement et de recherche) to assume the role of Thesis Director. Until this agreement is secured, the Program Director is responsible for supervising the doctoral student.

3 Upon prior notice from the Program Committee, the Associate Vice President for Post-Graduate Education may authorise the doctoral student to change his/her Thesis Director and/or doctoral program, provided that the doctoral student is admitted to the new doctoral program.

2 Where applicable, the Program Director notifies the doctoral student of the conditions that he/she must fulfil in order to rectify the situation within a time period of 15 months following enrolment, or proposes the definitive refusal of the candidate’s acceptance to the Associate Vice President for Post-Graduate Education. In the latter case, once approved by the Associate Vice President for Post-Graduate Education, the candidate will be notified of the definitive refusal of acceptance.

Section 4  Preparation and writing of thesis

Article 9  Off-site doctorates (Art. 11, para. 2 of the Ordinance)

A doctoral thesis may be prepared partly or entirely off the EPFL campus when justified by certain circumstances (for example, if the necessary equipment is not available on campus). In this case, before thesis research begins, the Program Director ensures that the following conditions are satisfied:

1. The Thesis Director has obtained guarantees from the host institution or company that it will furnish the doctoral student with the means necessary to advance in his/her thesis, without hinderance to the Thesis Director’s prerogatives regarding thesis supervision and without impeding the doctoral training of the doctoral student;

2. The publication and distribution of the thesis in its entirety is ensured;

3. Funding is settled for the duration of the thesis between EPFL and the host institution or company.
Article 10  Duration (Art. 9, para. 2 of the Ordinance)
Duly justified requests for an extension of the planned deadline for completing the thesis (Art. 9, para. 2 of the Ordinance) must be submitted by the Thesis Director, in writing, to the Associate Vice President for Post-Graduate Education and with the Program Director’s prior recommendation.

Article 11  Obligations of the doctoral student

In case of disagreement, they refer to the Associate Vice President for Post-Graduate Education.
2 The compatibility between the doctoral student’s training and his/her teaching responsibilities within an EPFL section is managed through an agreement between the Program Director and the Head of the Section. In case of disagreement, they refer to the Associate Vice President for Post-Graduate Education.
3 Should the doctoral student decide to discontinue his/her thesis preparation, he/she must inform his/her Thesis Director, the Program Director and the Registrar’s Office in writing and without delay.
4 The doctoral student informs the Registrar’s Office of any changes in his/her personal data. Any omission or modification resulting in the correction of the doctoral diploma will be payable by the doctoral student.

Article 12  Role of the Thesis Director (Art. 10 of the Ordinance)
1 The Thesis Director guides the doctoral student in his/her work and ensures that the thesis progresses smoothly.
2 Should the work or progress of the doctoral student prove unsatisfactory, and in particular if the Thesis Director’s annual report indicates shortcomings, the Program Director and the Thesis Director will discuss the candidate’s situation. The Program Director will then notify the doctoral student in writing of the problems discerned, the measures required to improve the situation, and the deadline within which these must be taken (Art. 10, para. 4, point a of the Ordinance).
3 In the event of Art. 10, para. 4, point b of the Ordinance, the Thesis Director submits his/her proposal to exclude the doctoral student, pre-signed by the Program Director, to the Associate Vice President for Post-Graduate Education, who notifies the doctoral student of the decision.
