

swiss summer school 02

reading the territory

5.–11.

september 2021

The SwissSummerSchool is organized by the Swiss Association of Schools of Architecture and represents, in the form of a week of projects, a new educational format and a platform for discussion, common to all schools of architecture.

Due to its topography, Switzerland is characterized by diversity in the smallest spaces. Its natural conditions intersect with the facets of cultural positions on the environment. As architects, our role today is, more than ever, to think globally and act locally. In homage to Lucius Burckhardt's Strollology, the SwissSummerSchool 02 focuses on the conscious perception of the environment, the reading of traces, the desire to understand. Questioning and critical discourse become a tool for forming one's own attitude. In teams of students and architects from different schools, a trip takes place around Lake Geneva,
