

Annex 5: List of Post-docs researchers available as énoncés théoriques supervisors

Name	Laboratory	Languages spoken	Field of expertise	Fields of interest	Email
Marson Korbi	TPOD Theory and Project of Domestic Space	English, Italian	history of domestic space; student housing; relation between labor, craftsmanship and education; history of communal dwelling and minimum dwelling. I am also interested in following students who would like to propose a research on the urban history and the history of production, housing and domestic space in specific territories of Switzerland (Zurich, Geneva, Lausanne, etc.) and any other topic of microhistorical and local interest.		marson.korbi@epfl.ch
Maria Sivers	SXL Structural Xploration Lab	English, German, French, Ukrainian, Italian	circular construction, reuse of building components, sustainability assessment, decision-support tools for real estate, LCA, data-driven analysis of construction markets, classifications and ontologies for building components	design for reuse, circular building strategies, reuse markets and supply chains, reconstruction and adaptive reuse, digital tools for circular construction (BIM, ML, AI, GIS), high-tech heritage	maria.sivers@epfl.ch
Laurin Baumgardt	THEMA	English, German	architectural anthropology, material culture, ethnographic methods, history and theory, social movements, housing justice, political economy, postcoloniality, African urbanism, dwelling, home-making, development, infrastructure studies, environment, waste, ethics and politics		laurin.baumgardt@epfl.ch
Aurélie Terrier	LAPIS	French, English, Italian	monumental architecture; vernacular architecture; built heritage preservation; history and theory; Archaeology of buildings; Enhancement of heritage sites		aurelie.terrier@epfl.ch
Enrica Mannelli	DC-LAB	English, French, Italian	squatting, social movements (mainly IT and EU), land occupation/land appropriation, commons, history of the commons, temporary urbanism, the city as a social factory, social housing history, domestic space, housing, housing typologies, housing occupation, history of the kitchen.	architecture and politics, architecture and economy, housing adaptive reuse	enrica.mannelli@epfl.ch